Forecast for Friday 31 May 2024

Weather: A rather cloudy start to the day, with some light showers affecting northern upslopes at first. Showers and cloud quickly clear south, leaving a dry day and plenty of sunshine.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: 30% in the north at first becoming greater than 95% across the Park by the afternoon.

Low Cloud and visibility: Scattered cloud covering hills above 500m with scraps of cloud around 300-400m in any showers on northern slopes. Cloud quickly lifts and breaks through the morning with bases largely above summits through the afternoon. Very good visibility perhaps dropping to moderate or poor in showers or cloud, becoming excellent through the afternoon.
